Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

They are having a terrible war in Europe.

America has no business in this war. We have two boys of military age. Neither of them has any quarrel whatever with the Germans.

American will not be as easily duped into this war as it was into the last one. The 1917-1919 "savers of democracy" now have sons. They want no repetition of the useless campaign of 21 years ago.

We have 3,000 miles of salty water between us and the scene of hostilities. It is our greatest defense. America should use it, as well as guard it.

In 1917, as a preparation of sentiment for war, America got into a comic-opera war with Mexico. This raised the war fever. Tuesday of this week, Secretary of State Hull sent a sharp note to Mexico. Is this another preparation for raising the war fever? We wait to see.

This war primarily is a contest between two dominant commercial nations, Germany and England, each jealous of the other's growing power. What stake have our boys of America in this bloody commercial fight?

The American boys sleeping in the cemeteries of France, the half-men in our government hospitals, the insane, the crippled and the lame in other institutions cry out against a repetition of the folly of 1917.

What has America to gain from this war? What did it gain from the last one? Why should we get into it? Do you want YOUR son to be killed, maimed or rendered insane?

Are your and my boy, here in peaceful Mississippi, to be slaughtered to protect some selfish corporation eager to share in the bloody spoils of war? Is he to die, as thousands died in 1917-1919, to protect the investments of international bankers?

Remember that, in this war, and in EVERY war, the men who START the war, and the men who PROFIT from war, seldom participate in the war. The men who die, the men who become permanent derilects, the men who live in pain, the men who are mutilated, these are the men who fight the relatively humble men.

Is there any glamor in a disemboweled soldier? Is there any glory in a decapitated human body? What is sweet and noble about gangrenous wounds, festering sores, bleeding, cuts?

The next time you begin feeling foolishly patriotic, go to the nearest government hospital and view the fruits of the last war.

That insidious propoganda has been effective, ask the first person whom he favors in the present war. He will probably answer "England". Then ask him "Why".

The same propoganda worked 21 years ago, when we thought that German soldiers killed babies, tortured and raped women, and perpetrated every conceivable indignity upon the civilians. Lies, mostly lies, damnable lies, as was proven later.

Watch this insidious propoganda. Analyize every tale you read. Use your own sense and judgment. Do not swallow every wild tale you read. Somebody was paid well to spread that tale.

Why should congressmen vote for a war from whose horrors the law exempts them? If our boys have to go to war, let those who sent them go along too. If your boy and my boy are to be used for cannon fodder, let the congressman himself, if he can stand the physical examination, go along with them. Oh, no, they say, "YOU go, I'll stay here where I am needed".

Just because a boy is poor and his parents are poor, is that a reason why he is not just as precious to the parents as is a rich boy to rich parents?

If there is a war, watch the sons of the rich and of the powerful get the swivel-chair jobs, as most of them did in the last war. If there is a war, watch the relatively poor boys get killed and maimed.

In our opinion, America will not enter another foolish war as long as we old soldiers can remember the uselessness and the fruitlessness of the last war.

"Gone With the Wind" To Blow In Sunday

"Gone With the Wind", the most famous picture ever produced, will be at Grenada Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

This monumental picture, portrayed in beautiful technicolor, has attracted capacity crowds wherever presented. The producer, David O. Selznick, wising to do justice to the book which, with the exception of the Holy Bible only, has the greatest sale on record, took two years to select the cast. Another year was required for the production of the picture.

The eleven showings scheduled for Grenada will start at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 14. Another showing that day will begin at 8:30. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday there will be three shows, at 10, 2 and 8.

Prices for each of the two shows on Sunday and for each of the three other night showings, $1.20; for the other shows, 75c, including tax. Box office will remain open each day from the start of the first show until the conclusion of the last show.

Patrons are assured that "Gone With the Wind" will not be shown anywhere else except at advanced prices—at least until 1941.

Grenada Golf Club Elects Officers for Next Year

The members of the Grenada Golf Club held a meeting in the directors room at Grenada Bank, April 6th.

The following officers were elected: President and manager, Dr. C. K. Bailey; vice president, Ed Penn; treasurer, H. J. Ray; secretary, Mrs. Ethel H. Patterson.

Directors as follows were named: H. J. Ray, Dr. C. K. Bailey, J. L. Townes, Jr., E. R. Green, H. A. Alexander, Ed Penn, Walter Garner, C. H. Calhoon.

The following committees were appointed: membership committee: Harry Burkley, chairman, T. H. Meek, E. R. Green, Ed Penn, Mrs. Eldridge Parks.

Advisory committee: B. C. Adams, H. A. Alexander, E. R. Green.

Greens committee: H. A. Alexander, Dr. C. K. Bailey, Ed Penn, H. J. Ray, R. C. Trusty.

Tournament committee: E. R. Green, chairman, Ed Penn, J. L. Townes, Jr., Walter Garner, Mrs. Ernest Penn, Mrs. J. A. Cooper.

FRANK HORTON HONORED

Frank Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hurd Horton of Grenada, a law student at Ole Miss, was highly honored recently by being invited to become a member of Phi Delta Pi, national honorary legal fraternity. This honor is conferred only upon those law students who have exceptional merit.

Editor's Note: It is a pleasure for this paper, which always has something dirty to say of old man Hurd Horton, to say something nice of his fine son.

HOLCOMB LIBRARY CLOSES

The library at Holcomb is closed temporarily. Please return books, now out, to Jackson's store as soon as possible, or bring them to the bookmobile on Friday, April 12. The bookmobile will be at Jackson's store every other Friday at two-thirty p. m. on its regular route and new books may be obtained then. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

The book "Getting Along Together" by Kern has been misplaced at Holcomb. Please return to the bookmobile or notify us if you know of its whereabouts.

COLLEGE BOULEVARD

Who says we'll change,
The last fair vestage
Of our Alma Mater, that remains?
Who would suggest
That we remove the one poor monument erected to her name?
To argue now, for her long toil,
We know is vain.
But we swear, to those who dare forget her,
Or trail her feathers in the dust,
We'll keep it College Boulevard, or bust!

Lady Byron

Mr. Buchanan, of Brannon, spent Tuesday with his sister, Mrs. Erle Johnston.

Mrs. John Sage, of Bruce, motored to Grenada early this week to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lufkin, also to take her young daughter, Patricia home

TO SPEAK AT ALL SAINTS

REV. W. G. CHRISTIAN

Rev. W. G. Christian, head of All Saints' Episcopal College at Vicksburg, will speak, using the subject, "Forward in Mississippi", at the 11 o'clock service at All Saints' Church in Grenada Sunday, April 13. He will also conduct the early morning service.

Rev. C. S. Liles, Rector at Grenada, will conduct services at Vicksburg that day.

You cannot tell what babies will amount to. The little Bennett fellow, pictured elsewhere, was one of the smallest babies ever born at the hospital here, yet he is now a regular "buster".

STATE ORATORICAL WINNER

DICK RULE

Dick Rule of Grenada High School who was selected by 9th District American Legion district to compete in the state meet, won first place in the oratorical contest over eight other state contestants in Jackson on Friday night on the subject, "The Negro's Relationship to the Constitution". Winning a $75.00 cash prize in Mississippi he left for the regional meet at Montgomery, Alabama, where he competed with winners from Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, and Arkansas and won second place there.

Grenada is mighty proud of this young man.

Mrs. Blanche Mallory Died In Kentucky Wednesday

Mrs. Blanche Mallory, native Grenadian, died in her home in Bowling Green, Kentucky Wednesday, April 3, 1940.

She was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. Robert Mullin and Mrs. Mary Walton Mullin, and was born on the Mullin plantation home, "Evergreen", four miles northwest of Grenada on January 29, 1866. She was the last of her generation to pass away.

In 1885, she and Mr. Sam Laurence were married. Mr. Laurence died on June 8, 1888, and was buried in Odd Fellows' Cemetery in Grenada. In 1893, she and Dr. J. H. Mallory were married in Bowling Green, Kentucky. There she has made her home until death.

She was buried in the beautiful Fairview Cemetery in Bowling Green after services were conducted by her rector, Rev. G. W. Buchholz, of Christ Episcopal Church.

One daughter, Miss Mary Laurence, who lived with her mother, as well as several nieces and nephews, in Grenada, survive.

BELHAVEN CHOIR TOURS COAST

The delightful trip enjoyed by the Belhaven Choir included stopovers and entertainment at various points. At Pascagoula they attended a band concert given by the Miss. State Band and were guests at the banquet which followed the concert. The choir gave a recital at the Presbyterian Church at Moss Point Sunday morning, also returned to the Pascagoula Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon to sing for a congregation at 3:30. Sunday night they sang in Mobile.

Monday, at Mobile they visited Bellenraph Gardens in the morning and left for Biloxi, then on to Gulfport where they sang at the Veteran's Hospital.

Next town in which they sang was at D'Lo. Three Grenada girls, accomplished as pianist and in voice, were in this group. They were Misses Gene Marders, Mary Louise West and Helen Horton.

CIVIC LEAGUE BENEFIT

Mrs. J. E. Lufkin, as president, and all of the members of the Civic League invite the housewives of Grenada, and others shopping in Grenada on Saturday to attend the "Home Made Food Market" sponsored by them and held at the office of Mississippi Power & Light Co. The hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 12 (noon).

Home baked pies, cakes, cookies, fresh eggs, home made candy, dressed chickens.

Be sure to come in to shop.

DR. BAILEY TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Dr. C. K. Bailey will be out of town Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week attending the State Dental Convention in Jackson.

Pay your subscription.

Rank Discrimination

In what is purported to be one of the Official Organs of the City of Grenada, we read a proposed ordinance purported to be for the purpose of regulating traffic so far as it passes the stop lights, and were amazed to read the following which purports to be Section 3 of that ordinance:

> Sec. 3. There is excepted from the operation of this ordinance the following vehicles, to-wit:
> Vehicles of the Fire Department in the discharge of their duty to put out or prevent fires at the time thereof, ambulances in cases when the passing of a Red light is necessary, vehicles driven by physicians when in the discharge of emergent duties, vehicles of all officers when necessary in the discharge of their duties, vehicles in cases of emergency when human life is involved, the person claiming such extant things for such users. If simple directions are followed, it usually acts punctually, thoroughly, gently. You'll like spicy BLACK DRAUGHT'S way. Chief of its all-respectable ingredients is an inception to have the burden of proving same if prosecuted under this ordinance.

As father of this piece of legislation, it behooves the writer to make some observations on this monstrous piece of law. Shades of Blackstone!! Shades of Cicero!! Shades of Scipio!!

The writer found out that, whereas the city has a number of stop lights, it had no ordinance which prohibited the "running" of these lights. Monday afternoon before the council met, we asked Attorney for the Council Cowles Horton to prepare an ordinance for us to introduce. AN ordinance was prepared, introduced by us, and duly passed.

If THIS is the ordinance, we enter into a covenant with our people never to introduce another ordinance.

If THIS is the ordinance, we enter into a covenant with the present legislature and all future legislatures never to write a word of criticism about them - and also offer sincere, if belated, apologies to all past legislatures for our words of criticism against them.

If THIS is really what we conceived and what Hon. Cowles Horton wrote, and the Council passed, every one of us should resign. If THIS is really the ordinance that we passed, the writer leads the possession by officially offering his resignation here and now.

This ordinance, as reproduced above, is rankly discriminatory in favor of BLACK DRAUGHT. We concede that a man filled with a big dose of that potent medicine is in an emergency, that Red Lights mean little to him, that his mind, like that of the doctor or the officer or the fire chief, is centered, not on a mere light, but upon the more important and more pressing matter of "getting on down the road".

What about the citizen who has taken a big dose of castor oil? Is he to stand idle waiting interminably until the lights deliberately change, while his Black Draught brother marches right through the light?

Are the addicts of Fenomint, Ex-Lax, calomel, Sal Herpatica and C. C. C. pills to be halted at the Red Light, with every muscle acquiver, ever nerve tense, ever fiber twittering, while he who took Black Draught is permitted to pass along with the ambulance, the fire department and the police officers?

Is this a deliberate scheme to push the sales of Black Draught at the expense of other laxatives, purgatives and cathartics? If so, the Federal Trade Commission should take note.

Watermelons are a stable crop in this section. Excessive eating of watermelons produces just as great an emergency, if in a different department, in the human system as does Black Draught. Are watermelon eaters to wait while the lights are Red? Are our own people who depend upon watermelons to be discriminated against and in favor of the Chatanooga Medicine Company?

If THIS is really the ordinance, the Mayor in trying cases of violation of "light running", will in the future ask, "Did you take Black Draughgt", instead of "Guilty or Not Guilty."

Laws, as written, are strange and complex; as published they are most strange and most complex.

Fertilizer Brings Mississippi Farmers More Than Forty-Four Million Dollars

Extra dollar returns on Cotton, Vegetables, and Corn, which farmers received Nationally for each dollar spent on fertilizer.

The gigantic sum—three billion dollars—which farmers have received from the Government under the AAA since 1933 is equaled by the extra dollar value of increased yields produced by fertilizer in the same period, according to estimates made from personal interviews with 32,000 farmers in 35 States.

Mississippi farmers gave the interviewers grass-root facts which show that for every dollar they spent for fertilizer they received an average return in increased yields of $3.11. In other words, Mississippi farmers spent $8,791,000 for fertilizer. The extra return which they received from its use amounted to $44,948,000, leaving an increased income above the cost of the fertilizer of $36,157,000.

The returns from each dollar Mississippi invested in fertilizer, as shown by The National Fertilizer Association survey, varied from crop to crop. Cotton was up on the list with an increased value return of $5.75. Potatoes ranked well up with a return of $5.47. Other crops reported were sugar cane, which brought $4.39 for each dollar invested, and tomatoes, $5.38.

Mississippi farmers also had their say about the effects of fertilizer on quality of crops. Over 71 per cent said they got better market quality in all cash crops, while 51 per cent said they got better feeding quality in grain and hay, and 20 per cent declared they observed better shipping quality in fruits and vegetables.

Average return in increased yields for all crops in all States shown by the survey was $3.60 for each dollar spent on fertilizer. Nationwide, the crops showing highest rate of return were: tobacco, cotton, fruits, and vegetables.

MAC DOWELL MUSICALE

Meeting in the home of Mrs. B. C. Adams on Main Street Thursday afternoon, April 4th, the Mac Dowell Musicale Club held one of the best program meetings of the year.

The hostess had arranged the reception rooms for this occasion and used lovely iris and other spring blossoms to decorate effectively and most charmingly.

The leader, Mrs. G. W. Whitten, presided and after roll call she read a paper, Berlioz.

A piano duet, Le Carnaval Romain, Berlioz, by Miss Mabel Walker and Mrs. Roger Dollarhide.

By the same composer a Victor Recording, of three numbers: Damnation of Faust: Minuet of Will-o'-the Wisps; and Serenade Mephistopheles.

Serving as co-hostess with Mrs. Adams were Mrs. C. A. Pharr and Misses Ellezey and Elizabeth Wilkins. A delicious salad and ice tea was served following the program.

MRS. McKELL HOSTESS

The charming home of Mrs. C. V. McKell was made festive with iris and spirea on Thursday afternoon of last week when she entertained four tables of bridge players, honoring her mother, Mrs. C. E. Raymond, who with Mr. Raymond, are guests in the McKell home this month. Before the games began, the hostess served a delicious ice course.

Winners of prizes were Mrs. L. E. Noble, high; Mrs. O. R. Lilly, second and Mrs. John Leigh cut for low score prize.

Miss Kathryn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Si Jones, who is employed in the Capital City, spent Sunday here with her parents.

Mrs. Cowles Horton is enjoying a delightful visit with her daughter, Mrs. George MacMurray in Jackson, also a trip to Natchez this week.

Mrs. Linam, of Raymond, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Cooley, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dubard with their daughters, Helen and Mrs. John McEachin and little son, John, Jr., motored to Drew on Sunday last to spend the day with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Beck.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

The handsome home of Mrs. D. G. Ross was the scene of a bridge club meeting on Tuesday afternoon when members of the Tuesday Club assembled there for games.

In the absence of several members other friends were invited to play. Included in this group were Mesdames Frank York, Lena Elma Cheek, O. W. Scott and Raphel Semmes.

The home presented a most charming picture with the many containers filled with spring flowers.

The hostess served a delectable salad course, nut sandwiches and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chamberlain, of Greenwood, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Chamberlain and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Trussell over the week-end.

George Terrell, Whyte, Jr. and I visited the Mississippi coast Friday and Saturday, but left just before Paul and his payrollers arrived.

A six hundred mile trip resulted in the accidential catching of one fish, said politely to be a white trout, but it look suspiciously like a croaker.

Maybe Hurd Horton and Judge Johnson can get that fellow who figured so close on the time of the eclipse to tell them where to get all that money.

According to reliable information, some of the legislators got back from the Coast sober and alive; most of them got back alive.

You Should See Florida, Says Cas Heath

St. Petersburg Fla., is a city of one hundred thousand population. Durin' this winter there was sixty five tthousand registered visitors ther, from the north, east and Canada. Most of them were tourist old men and women. All of them hartored there for the winter months in the hot sunshine of this city called the City of Sunshine, and Green Benches. Each day the sun does not shine, the editor of their paper gives everyone a free paper. For miles in this city there are green benches along the sidewalks for rest. No one works down there in St. Petersburg; they all go there for sun baths, swiming, fishing and golfing. Just to have a good time and rest. They have built a million dollar pier out in the bay.

The first Sunday I went to church I visited the First Methodist Church, thinking there would be only a small crowd, but it filled and they directed me to the basement to listen over loud speaker. The doors closed 20 minutes before time of the sermon. Many tu ed away. They had good music and no one you knew, but they all semed to know you.

Miami, Fla., I took a bus trip to Miami and spent several days there. But on my way to Maimi I went down the East coast. Miami is a city of two hundred and fifty thousand population made up mostly of Jews, and is the most beautiful beach on the west coast. On Easter Sunday, which was a pretty and hot sun shinny day I went to the Trinity Methodist Church and the Bishop preached. There was 100 people to join the church. West Palm Beach is also a beautiful city. I came back up the west coast and passed thru Polk county the richest in Florida. There were millions of bushels of oranges on the ground bitten by frost. Some of the trees were bending down with yellow ripe oranges and others in full bloom and so fragrant.

I spent one day with Russell McLean who lives at Clearwater, Fla. Russe'l used to live in Grenada. He is married and has one child and he is a fine dentist. He asked about his old friends back here.

Everyone should see Florida once.

VISIT THE COAST

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Burt, Mrs. Spivey Kent and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burt, of Winona, constituted a party motoring to Bellingraph Gardens at Mobile, where they spent part of the afternoon and then continuing their trip on to Biloxi to spend the night and Sunday.

Mesdames Donald Ross, E. L. Gerard, Wm. Mitchell and F. T. Gerard motored to Memphis on Friday last. Mrs. A. W. George came home with them that afternoon.

Mrs. Fulton McRee, Mrs. Jack McRee and Mrs. C. V. Gibson, of Holcomb, motored to Grenada Sunday afternoon, to accompany Elizabeth Brooks home after a short visit in Holcomb. Elizabeth is a niece of Mrs. Gibson.

"SUB DEBS"

The Sub Deb Club had an unusually enjoyable week-end this past week. On Saturday morning they were awakened early and rushed off to the country home of Winifred Saunders to a "Jiffy Breakfast."

The Saunders' handsome antebellum home was thrown open to this bevy of girls at about seven-thirty and as they were given only a minute's notice of their invitation to breakfast most of them were attired in gay house coats. Mrs. Saunders assisted by Mrs. Gerard helped serve the delicious food to the guests.

That same evening, Miss Louise Avent was assisted by her mother when she entertained delightfully at supper at the Avent's farm, the "Shack". All kinds of good foods were served, including a five gal'on freezer of cream. An evening spent with this hospitable family is always a pleasure and on this occasion the guests were especially lavish in their praise.

Mrs. Frank Gerard, club mother, Mrs. C. K. Avent, and approximately 20 members were guests.

Mrs. Mollie McLeod, supervisor at Prevenatorium, Magee, Miss., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Burt this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClure who made their home in Houston for the past several months where Mr. McClure was manager of Western Auto Store, have returned to Grenada where Mr. McClure will again assume duties at Dyre-Kent Drug Co.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

From casual observation the ticket laws are not much more effective on the coast than they are in North Mississippi.

John Emmons whom we have been fooling with sample copies for nearly three weeks, finally consented to receive this paper in his own name.

The chickens in Grenada started going to roost at five o'clock Sunday afternoon. Those extravagant promises made last August went to roost last Friday.

Non-Controversial Issue

We have been on the firing line for five or six years, bragging on those whom others dislike and cussing those whom others like. Some like some, some like others.

This week, for a change, we are going to devote our attention, our research and our intense thoughts to subjects which are strictly non-controversial.

If anybody either gets mad, or gets glad at anything on this page, we will give that person a six months subscription to the GCW.

Aint Spring Grand

The beautiful springs of green grass, so tenderly nurtured by Mother Earth, are now peeping forth from their mother's bosom, expectant, trustful, hopeful, benign and beautiful.

Grass trodden down by cows, sheep, and hogs, rises again. Nibbled almost beyond recognition by avaracious teeth of sheep, it emerges again with the first rain.

Everybody loves grass, but, should there be even one leader who dislikes grass, we take back our statement.

Misdeeds of the Martians

Those who inhabit the planet of Mars, which is a mere million or so miles from Grenada, are said to indulge in many forms of liscentiousness and evil. They have strayed from the teachings of their forebears who came in airplanes from the planet Jupiter, which was at one time very near Mars. Their morals are said to be anything but good. They steal. They rob the weak. They indulge in practices which, should they be judged by our standards, would be atrocious.

If the Martians have any kinfolks in Grenada, we take everything back.

Pity the Poor Peruvians

Weather bureau figures indicate that the Peruvians who inhabit the upper provinces have had no rain since early last Fall.

Some of their lambs die suckling at the dry teats of the emaciated ewes. Their calves bleat piteously while the cows moo in despair. The alpacas, both young and old, have managed to obtain a precarious living by eating the sage grass and dry grape leaves.

The Poor Peruvians are in bad shape. Pity them.

The Post Office

One of the most stately buildings in Grenada is the U. S. Post Office. It is built of brick, concrete, steel, tile and wood.

Everything is kept spick and span. The brasswork is burnished. The spittons are clean. The stamps are a little gummy if you lick them. The window panes are washed every now and then. There is not a spider web there over two or three months old.

The postoffice is in charge of the post master and the assistant post master. Several clerks work there. Six or seven carriers, rural and urban, use it as headquarters to pick up mail for their clients.

Several here want to be post master for the job pays about $2000.00 a year. There aint much to do to get the money but look wise and say little. The other boys do the work.

Life must be grand indeed being head of such a fine institution as Grenada Post Office. But, if anyone disagrees, we recant, retract and back up, for we have got sugar on our tongue, like Governor Johnson.

The Yalobusha River

Some think that the Yalobusha river with its sweeping curves, its majectic reaches and its willow-fringed banks is one of the most beautiful streams in Mississippi, if not in the world.

Some think that it is really nasty, as into its yellow belly is poured the sewerage, the slime and the slop of this city.

What do you think?

Governor Paul B. Johnson

Paul B. Johnson was raised over in Scott County, Mississippi, went to the schools of that rural section, went to Hattiesburg and worked for four (or six) bits a day wheel-barrowing sawdust, went to Millsaps College and received a law degree, practiced law in Hattiesburg, was elected Circuit Judge, beat Bilbo for Congress, resigned after serving two terms, ran for governor three or four times, was successful in 1939, and is now serving Mississippi as its 49th Governor. He loves what he calls the average man. He is a member of the church. He put sugar on his tongue in the early part of 1939. He loves the old folks. He loves the poor children who cannot go to school for want of books. He lost patience several times with members of the state senate who did not do to suit him. He went to the Coast last week-end and was in a good humor. He told the boys there that he did not have to pick up any wild cats unless he wanted to. Some of the boys who run saloons there thought maybe he was speaking in metaphor.

Go to Church Sunday

You should go to church next Sunday and every Sunday. You will learn many good things by going to church. We have six or seven churches in Grenada. Go to either one. This paper is non-sectarian.

Romans vs. Greeks

This is not intended to be a reflection on either the Greeks or the Romans, for we love both races. They are fine people, both. We have subscribers in both races.

This is merely a story which is said to illustrate why the Romans do not like the Greeks. It was laid about 2000 years ago in the Valley of the Nile. Mark Anthony, enamored of the beautiful Egyptian Queen Cleopatra, called at her palace, rang the door bell and asked the colored maid, in white bib and tucker, "Dusky maid, where art thy mistress, the beautiful Cleo?" The maid, somewhat timidly, and exposing a rapturously perfect set of ivories, said, "Boss, she in the baid with "erisypelas". "Damn those Greeks", said Mark, stalking pompously away.

And that is the reason, they say, why the Romans never did like the Greeks. However, we do not state it as a fact.

You Are Dead A Long Time

When you die, you are a long time dead, some say. That school of thought, which has a large number of scholars, believes in dancing, playing cards, drinking licker and having what they call a good time while on earth, for they think when they get to Heaven, they will have to cut out all of that kind of business - if they ever do.

There is another bunch which thinks that you are dead for only an infinitesimal part of a split second, and that you go immediately either to Heaven or to Hell.

Take your choice.

Bonus for Being Born

"I understand any child born in Independence Day is entitled to $1,000 from the United States Government. If so, I would like further Details."—A. P. Dispatch.

It is reported—without verification, of course that the Treasury Department answered this inquiry in the following manner:

"Dear Sir: Your kind letter touches a very sensitive spot. So far we have not established any direct benefits for the pre-natal child or babies. I can only assure you that our experts are working ont it. However, if you can manage to take care of the youngster yourself for the next 16 or 17 years (don't overlook old age pensions, mother's pensions, aid for dependent children), N. Y. A. can take him off your hands. Then after he is through college, there is the CCC. By the time he is ready to settle down he will be eligible, of course, for PWA—which we hope will be on a 10 hour month by that time and will be set for life. By that time, undoubtedly, the BBB (bonus for being born) will be in effect and your grandchildren, as they come along, will be brought into the world by a state doctor, swaddled in state diapers and fed by a state wet nurse. So you see the future is not as dark as it seems. Meantime, is there anything we can lo for you in the way of a loan?"

—Omaha World Hearald

The Dogwood

They say when dogwood trees bloom, it is a good sign that fish are biting. The rich hollows of the hilly section of this county are filled with the beautiful blosoms of the beauteous dogwood trees. It is time to go fishing.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

THOMAS ROY CHAMBERLAIN

This young fellow's name is Thomas Roy Chamberlain. He celebrated his eighth birthday on March 30, 1940. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chamberlain. He is the grandson of Supervisor and Mrs. George E. Chamberlain of Beat Two. When he was little he thought so much of grandpa that he called himself "Little George". Since he found out that grandpa is a politician, he quit.

Thomas Roy's other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Trussell of Gore Springs.

Brother E. G. Stockard, a new subscriber, said that he and the other fellows who have to pay $20.00 more for truck tags to haul stave timber must be the average men one reads about.

Some of the folks down along the highway in South Mississippi are so poor that they do not even have privys. Half of the half who have them have those pretty red ones made by the WPA.

Well, it looks like the average man and the sun went into eclipse at about the same time.

Do not bother me and Sam Mims about state jobs. See Hurd Horton.

Treasury Department, Office of District Supervisor, Alcohol Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, April 4, 1940. Notice is hereby given that on March 19, 1940, one 1937 Ford Coach Motor No. 18-4115743, with accessories, was seized in Yalobusha County, Mississippi, for violation of the Internal Revenue Laws, to-wit: Section 3321, Internal Revenue Code of 1939. Any person claiming an interest in said property must appear at the office of Investigator in Charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, 1002 Deposit Guaranty Bank Building, Jackson, Mississippi, and file claim and cost bond as provided by Section 3724, Internal Revenue Code of 1939, on or before May 6, 1940; otherwise the property will be disposed of according to law. WAKE UP AND LIVE
(Editorial)

What do you do when you haven't anything else to do? I knit—Maybe you draw or embroider. I know one girl who raises the most beautiful sweet peas and roses. Instead of twiddling your thumbs and day-dreaming, why not turn your vacant time into developing your hobby. One hobby that is very interesting and maybe valuable, is taking fingerprints and classifying them. All you need is a big scrap book and stamp pad from the ten cent store.

Fred Joiner and William Gammon putter in a machine shop and Fred has invented a little electric machine. Merritt Clogston carves useful little gadgets and graceful figurines for his friends. Elizabeh Dogan draws and designs clothes. James Thomas plays the piano and draws cartoons. Charline Chapius knits. Bryan Baker has a huge hetrogeneous collection of stamps from all over the world. One girl is learning to play the pipe organ on Saturday mornings.

Why not join your Church Choir or the Sons of the American Legion? You are here to study: why not make the most of your time—try to make the honor roll. Don't waste time in the study hall, for you have all afternoon and night to do this.

Some people have a positive attitude towards studying: others a passive: and others a negative. Those in the first group have an open mind and a genuine desire to gain knowledge. Those in the second group have an open mind. Those in the third group have a closed mind and put up a defensive campaign against learning.

Try to justify your existence—do something besides occupy space. Wake up and live!

Our nomination for the perfect little freshman girl is Loraine Fisher, and the perfect freshman boy, Bennie Moore.

TENNIS TEAMS SUCCESSFUL

Our tennis teams went to Winona Monday of last week and gave Winona some stiff competition. Rice York, our representative in boys singles, lost by a few points to Winona's Robert Harvey in a close game. He played an excellent game, but Robert had participated in over twenty tournaments and is a state champion in doubles and has the advantage of having had more experience in playing.

Camilla Smith, representing us in girls' singles, played well and defeated Willie Sue Dotson of Winona, Carolyn Whitaker and Bobby Gattis, our contestants in girls' doubles, lost to Winona's team.

Only two girls, Camilla Smith and Carolyn Whitaker, Volunteered to go out for school tennis and it is necessary that we have three girls in order that we may not have to forfeit the games for next year. So, Monday morning Bobby Gattis was asked to help the team out by playing doubles with Carolyn. They played surprisingly well and lost by only a few points to the Winona girls. James Thomas and Charles Calloway were victorious over the Winona boys' team. This is the first time for a long time that we have even tied with Winona for tennis.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

In chapel Wednesday morning, Mr. Rundle stressed in his talk the idea that we, by omission, fail very often to help others. Mr. Hathorn, in the absence of Miss McKibben and Mr. Stirren, the coaches, made the annual award of the letters to those basketball players in school who have contributed most to the team.

Those girls who received their letters were: Mary Lou Cullen, Jewel Rounsaville, Billy Guy Thomas, Hazel Turner, Marjorie James, Frances Hale and Margaret Cannon. The boys were Rice York, W. B. Able, Cecil Hendricks, James Thomas, Thomas Houston, Julian Wilson, Bedford Thomas and Volner Wilson.

Margarite Stanley, our representative in expression, delivered her reading.

We were dismissed after Mr. Rundle said a prayer.

SPRING FEVER

Is only sincerity that's been keeping me going since those deliciously warm days have come. It hit me Monday and I've been in a lazy, slumbering sort of daze ever since. Spring is a time of suspended animation for many in Grenada High, and I see many with their heads drooping and far-away looks in their eyes even when they are awake.

Spring Fever makes you oblivious to almost everything; that's why grades drop off. When Spring comes one may as well surrender without a struggle to Spring Fever. It is as inevitable as report cards. Spring Fever comes very opportunely just in time to conserve our energy for exams (Boys when we will be so in need of it. One must think of the future.)

With what languor Prive Harrison, Chester Irby, Francis Hill, Kenneth Nail and Kathleen Nail amble into the study hall at 8:20; with what nonchalance all of us go from one class to another. And with what luxuriance the innumerable promises are flouting! I pity Builder York, Kathleen Nail and Kenneth Nail, because they have the perpetual type of Spring Fever.

"Ma'm? Naw, I'm not sick, I'm just sleepy and I'll start studying right now—but aren't the trees pretty?"

INTERVIEWS WITH SENIORS

Among the archives which have accumulated in Grenada High through the periods of history is one named Daniel Methuselah Taylor. He is widely known for his perseverance, his faith that Time will make a graduate of him. He is one of the few charter members of the band. He was a great well-grown lad when he joined, was put in the Beaides being a fine wood-chopper's pet, he is quite a ball-room dancer otherwise. He seems to be especially fond of a very fair lady living near Lepanto, Arkansas. He seems to have a perfect mania for such things as Redbonds, The Plant and Wiesman. His ultimate aim in school has been not to be Valedictorian, not to be the Good Citizenship Award winner, not to be a member of the National Honor Society, but to graduate.

He's a rugged character, just like the Gene Autry in the picture when accompanying himself on the guitar. Although he is somewhat brusque in his manners, he is really good natured. He spends much of his time transporting his little brothers and sisters to and from school. As president of the freshman class and vice president of the sophomore class he had an opportunity to do the bossing and directing he loves so well. He is known to have an exorbitant amount of self-esteem and respect. As a cheerleader he was perfection because of this deep voice and pleasing personality. He believes in relaxation, and some people say that Walter Trussell is lazy.

If Mildred Thomas trampels over little innocent children hurrying to the school bus in the afternoon; robs the postoffice or mail man; think nothing of it, as she is expecting another letter from California like that other 7-page one she received the other day.

The track team surely did miss Dick Woodall in the track meet when he was sick.

Club Luncheon

With memories of last year's most successful luncheon and musical as an inspiration the cultural clubs of the city held its second annual luncheon on Saturday afternoon at the Community House.

This socially important event created keen interest and was attended by a group of fashionably attired matrons composing the personnel of the clubs of Grenada.

Mrs. Walter V. Davis, Jr., president of the Fortnightly Club, greeted the guests upon their arrival.

The spacious reception room of the Community House, with its natural wood finish, was decorated with white and purple iris interspersed with long branches of spirea. Tall baskets filled with assorted spring blossoms flanked the rostrum where the grand piano stood.

The seven tables were draped with handsome damask. Charmingly arranged old fashioned nose gays, featuring lace dollies as their back ground, were arranged in glass slippers and top hat containers.

Each one of the bouquets of pastel blossoms vied with the other for supremacy of beauty and loveliness. Places were laid for one hundred guests and four courses were served. Mrs. Walter V. Davis, Jr., as toastmistress, presided throughout the luncheon and musical in her usual gracious manner. Her address of welcome was followed by guest introductions. The head table where Mrs. Davis presided, was beautifully decorated. A spray bouquet of varied hued snapdragons and vivid tulips were arranged in a large hat shaped container. Seated at this table were the presidents of the clubs and the visiting artists.

During the serving of the luncheon Mrs. Davis introduced Miss Louis Solomon, pianist, and Mrs. Russell, composer of songs, both of Jonestown, Miss.

At intervals throughout the luncheon, the presidents of clubs represented, were introduced. They gave an account of some outstanding achievement of their club and then presented the member guests.

Mrs. Roger Burt, secretary for the Fortnightly Club, spoke for that splendid group as the president of the Fortnightly was official hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Lufkin spoke for Civic League; Mrs. J. L. Cooley, Jr., for Twentieth Century; Mrs. H. C. Calhoon, for MacDowell Musicale and Mrs. Sam Simmons, Sr., for Garden Club.

After luncheon, while the tables and chairs were being rearranged, the guests spent an informal half hour in greeting the visiting artists.

The charming personality and recognized ability of the pianist, Miss Solomon won for each of her selections hearty applause. Her numbers were interspersed throughout the program by vocal solos and duets: First by Mrs. Walter Garner and later by Mesdames Ernest Penn and E. R. Pleasants singing a duet.

Mrs. Russell, of Jonestown, a song composer of note, was an honored guest. Her compositions were to have been sung by Mrs. Bishop, of Clarksdale, however, as it was impossible for her to be here, the Grenada audience looks forward to hearing her lovely voice at some time later.

The audiences appreciation of each rendition served not only to inspire those on the program, but gave a real insight in the hearts of the music lovers before whom they were appearing.

This lovely affair was sponsored by the Fortnightly Club this spring and because of the success of this year's luncheon, following the success of the inaugurate luncheon of last year, one hopes that the spring luncheon will become a permanent event.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Gilmore, of Chicago, Ill., will arrive Saturday, after a month in Florida, to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burkley and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Noble visited at beautiful Bellengraph Gardens and the Mississippi Coast the past week-end.

Mrs. R. C. Gilliam and little daughter arrived last week and are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Todd. Their home is in Memphis.

Mrs. Gene Marders attended the bedside of her invalid foster mother, who resides in Oakland, this past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burt entertained relatives the past week-end. Included were Mr. and Mrs. Allen and baby of Cleveland, Miss., Lucy Craddock, of Jackson and a brother in-law of Mr. Burt's, Mr. Mason from Nowata, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Cannon and son, Paul, were the guests of their brother and uncle, Mr. B. J. Anderson and his family this past week. They left for their home in Lawrence, S. C. Tuesday morning.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

On Wednesday of last week the Fortnightly Club met in the home of Mrs. Cowles Horton, when the daughter of the house, Mrs. J. L. Townes, Jr., was hostess. For this delightful occasion, the home was beautifully decorated with spring blossoms.

The president, Mrs. W. V. Davis presided throughout the afternoon's delightful program. Roll call was responded to by each member naming a current literary event.

Two interesting papers were read. The first, "Changes of Literature in Civilization", by Mrs. G. L. Johnson and second, a review of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath," by Mrs. E. R. Pleasants.

Following the program, plans were discussed and committees named to present the annual Style Show during cotton week in May. A call meeting at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cathey was on Tuesday of this week.

The hostess served iced coca colas.

Open house for Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Gilmore, are invited to call to see them Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jordan. Mrs. Gilmore, formerly Miss Elvie Winter, has many friends in this her native town, who will like to see her again.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

Mrs. E. L. Morrow, leader of one of the several circles which composes the Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church, presided at a business and program planning meeting Monday afternoon. This meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Morrow. Mrs. Margaret Noel led the devotional.

Mrs. A. W. George and Mrs. F. T. Gerard visited their sister, Mrs. Norma Caldwell in Jackson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jones, of Cleveland, motored to the Mississippi coast last week for the purpose of bringing their mother home. While on the coast they, in company with Mrs. Jones, visited beautiful Bellingraph Gardens at Mobile. Upon reaching Jackson Mrs. Jones decided to stop for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph King. Mrs. Jones reached home Monday.

ALL SAINTS AUXILIARY

All Saints Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. F. C. Bailey Monday afternoon with eleven members present. Mrs. C. S. Liles led the devotional. This was followed by the president's talk and a discussion of plans for the remainder of the year. Miss Mary Strahan as Religious Education Chairman supplemented this talk by reading a letter from Mrs. Wheatly concerning program work for the auxiliary.

Monthly schedule: First Monday will be devoted to department service work, second Monday, business, third Monday, religious. Education program, fourth Monday, social.

MT. NEBO NEWS

The many friends of Wm. Yeager are glad to learn that he is improving from the severe kick of a horse he got last week.

There is a very unassuming man passes here on highway 8 about four times every day, who, when possible, does some kind deed to the aged, sick or afflicted. We pray that when he makes the last long trip and crosses the Great Divide, where there are no trying schedules, to keep, and no fares to worry about, no dreary morns of early waking, that there be many stars in his crown. His name is Duce Clark.

Misses Winnie Hall and Frances Yeager visited Mrs. Tom Williams in Grenada last week.

GORE SPRINGS NEWS

Mrs. Alice Trussell left for Grenada Thursday where she will spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Jim O'Brine and then go to Itta Bena and visit with her son, Mr. Henry Trussell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James were happy to have as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Norman, and Mrs. Jack Lamon of Greenwood, and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Williams, of Graysport.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tharpe accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard James and Mr. and Mrs. Reginal Tharpe attended the show, "The House of Seven Gables" in Grenada Saturday night.

Mrs. Dell Trussell spent Monday of last week with her sister, Mrs. H. B. Childs of Chapel Hill and Mrs. Lera Cannon of Alva.

Sorry to report Mrs. G. E. Chamberlain still on the sick list.

A large crowd attended the operetta Friday night. Among those who attended from Grenada were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Spratlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tharpe and Mr. and Mrs. John W. McCormack.

Visitors at school Monday were Messrs. Tony Chamberlain, Francis Worsham and Maurice.

Whyte Whitaker, Jr.

Rogers Pleasants is one of the most pleasant, good natured little fellows I know of. Indeed he is a young Chesterfield, without a peer.

It looks like some of the states favor a third term for President Roosevelt, and others think the country would like being saved by somebody else for a change.

My Wonderful One:—Your vision of lovliness with beauty so rare, a spirit of night from the Nile somewhere, limped eyes that light or frown, like stars that twinkle when the sun goes down, smiling lips when the worlds a song, pouting now when things go wrong, laughter sweet as bells a tinkling, but changed to sterness in a twinkling, Satin skin so soft and white, like a fairy goodess bright, Raven locks and teeth like pearls. You are not like other girls. Tell me darling as I rave—Will you lend me the price of a shave? Your Slave—Taken from a post card.

Some low-down scalawag who without a doubt is a thief, stole a bicycle near our office. He was a very dumb crook, for he overlooked a much more valuable thing lying near it—a Coca Cola bottle.

Don't miss the picture of Virgil Barnes and the White Way Delivery Truck, to be found elsewhere in the paper. The picture doesn't exactly flatter him; anyway he had a fight the night before and got all of his front teeth knocked out, however they have been restored and he is as good looking as he ever was.

"Man can eat grass and get more vitiamins from it than from all the other plants and the fruits put together. Twelve pounds, dried, of the stuff that flies from the lawnmower contains more vitimins than 340 pounds of fruits and vegetables—more fruits and vegetables than the average person eats in a year—says The Chemical Society.

England is bound to fall some day, now is just as good a time as any. Look at the Greek empire with all it's glory; at the Roman empire with all it's Grandeur; they fell; and if history repeats itself England will too.

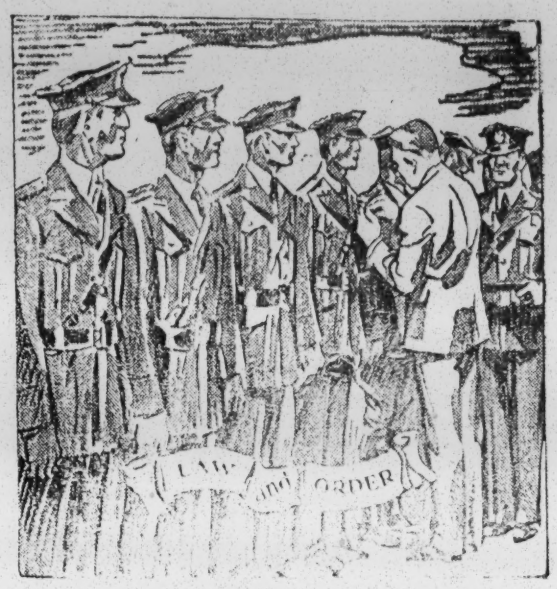
To Maintain Law and Order

From the Preamble to the Constitution of The American Legion



Members of The American Legion went to war to uphold law and order as a principle guiding nations. Today, their interest is intensified since they realize that devotion to law and order is vital to the maintenance of the rights of citizenship.

This does not imply that we are to attempt to take over the police duty in any community. To do so would violate the idealism of other portions of this Preamble as well as rights of citizenship. It does mean, however, in clear-cut cases of necessity, such as disaster, or rehabilitation following disaster, that we should freely and willingdly lend all possible assistance in caring for unfortunate victims. We should back up our law-enforcements officers at all times in their just effort to enforce the lay.

The Legion as an organization wisely sponsors strict neutrality concerning partisan politics, religion, and industrial strife. What one does in this regard as an individual is his own affair.

Fertilizer Supplies Assured Despite War

In contrast to the acute shortage of fertilizer materials suffered at the beginning of the last European war, the present purchasing season for fertilizer finds the country prepared with adequate supplies for this year's crops.

"At the beginning of the last World War an immediate deficiency of nitrogen carriers occurred," said Charles J. Brand, Executive Secretary and Treasurer of The National Fertilizer Association. "There was an almost total absence of potash. Although there was plenty of phosphate rock, there was a shortage of sulphuric acid needed to make superphosphate.

"When war disrupted shipping from 1914 to 1918, nitrogen materials for fertilizer became scarce, as we were once bound to Chile for nitrates," said Mr. Brand. "Today, we not only have adequate shipping service from Chile, but our country is the third largest producer of synthetic nitrogen in the world, and the largest producer of ammonium sulphate. The shortage of sulphuric acid during the last war was due to the heavy requirements of munition manufacturers for processing their goods. Improved methods of munition makers no longer require sulphuric acid. This leaves an adequate supply for use in making superphosphate.

"In 1914 we were entirely dependent upon Germany for potash. Today, we produce at home over 60 per cent of the potash we use and have sufficient reserves to care for our entire needs. In addition to this, French, German, Palestinian, and Spanish potash are available."

Prices farmers pay for fertilizer are now lower than before the World War; prices they pay for all commodities average 22 per cent higher.

Grandma went to the woods in the spring time and procured roots and herbs to make a Spring Tonic for the whole family. Maybe you need a Spring Tone-up too.

Colds of winter, dry foods, lack of exercise often leave one's system in a run-down condition. Possibly a touch of Malaria left over from last fall, or a temporary constipated condition due to lack of green foods in your winter diet, has added to your distress.

If you have no organic trouble, you no doubt, like thousands of other Southerners, will be benefited by taking Nash's C. & L. Tonic and Laxative. Nash's contains two good Laxative Ingredients—Mayapple and Phenolphthalein. It also contains Quinidine and Cinchonine to combat the type of Malaria most prevalent in our South and.

Mr. Nash, the drug manufacturer, says he does not want one penny of your money if Nash's C. & L. does not satisfy you. He says, "Try it for one week, and if you are not satisfied your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Call for Nash's C&L. Price 50c.

DISTINGUISHED GUEST

Mrs. Alcorn Russell, the talented musician and composer who was an honor guest at the Clubs Luncheon in Grenada last Saturday, was the guest of her friend, Mrs. T. H. Meek, while in Grenada. Another distinguished guest in this home was Mr. R. Armstead of Memphis who spent Saturday here.

Mrs. C. S. Burt's circle of the Presbyterian Circle met in her home Monday. The attendance was exceptional, as 22 members were present.

A planning program followed the devotional.

CIRCLE MEETING

Mrs. Ben Townes' circle of the the Presbyterian Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Cooley on Monday afternoon. Thirteen members were present.

Mrs. W. D. Salmon taught the Bible lesson. Mrs. Townes presided during the program planning session at which time plans for the year were made relative to circle meetings.

Mrs. Cooley invited the members to remain for a short social following the close of the meeting. At this time she served dainty sandwiches, cookies and iced coca colas.

Prof. and Mrs. John Rundle spent Wednesday in Memphis, where Prof. Rundle was guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon at Peabody Hotel.

Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Thrower attended a meeting of the Sardis-Grenada pastors on Tuesday of this week in the North Mississippi town of Sardis.

MRS. PIERCE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Knox Pierce entertained charmingly on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Fairfield Avenue when bridge club members assembled for games. Two tables were arranged in the living room.

Honored guests were Mrs. Raymond, guest of Mrs. McKell and Mrs. Rumph, guest of Mrs. R. M. Smith. To these two ladies, the hostess presented each a lovely handkerchief as guest prizes.

Mrs. Jack Sanderson was awarded a cake plate for compiling high score.

Mrs. Pierce served a lovely plate containing salad and sandwiches with coca colas.

The many friends of the J. T. Thomas family and of Mrs. Tol Thomas Jr. of Cruger, were shocked to hear of an auto accident in which she (Mrs. Tol Thomas Jr.) was seriously injured. Taken to the Kings Daughters Hospital in Greenwood, it was found that an arm was broken and that she sustained very serious bruises. The accident occurred Wednesday afternoon.

Grenada's Newest Theatre---THE PIX

Grenada's second motion picture theatre, The Pix, opened its doors to the public last Friday night, and played to capacity each performance. It is owned by Mr. Homer J. Williams who also owns and operates the Grenada Theatre.

Thus Grenada Grows.

INFORMAL SOCIAL AFFAIR

On Wednesday morning Mrs. F. A. Stacy entertained informally, honoring her sister, Mrs. Helms. Members of her bridge club and a few neighbors were invited in to greet this charming visitor.

The hostess served coca colas.

Miss Helen Rose, Grenada girl who is teaching in Jackson, Miss. schools as English teacher, was honored by being elected sponsor for the National Honor Society group of the Jackson schools. Congratulations, Helen.

Rev. John Young of Belhaven, Jackson, visited homefolks in Grenada recently.

PEACH SPRAYING ADVISED BY STATE PLANT BOARD

As most peach trees are now in bloom, N. L. Douglass, State Plant Board Inspector at Grenada, is reminding orchardists that a spray should be applied when three-fourths of the petals have fallen so as to prevent wormy peaches this year. The spray recommended consists of one pound of powdered lead arsenate in fifty gallons of water to which has been added four pounds of hydrated lime and four pounds of zinc sulphate to prevent any burning by lead arsenate.

Another spraying with the same mixture is advised about two weeks later, or ten days after all the petals have fallen. A third spray about two weeks after the second consists of wettable sulphur used according to the manufacturer's directions. This spray is to prevent brown rot, and with the addition of a pound of lead arsenate to each fifty gallons is repeated about 4 weeks before the fruit is due to ripen.

Spray schedules for the control of insects and diseases of peaches and other fruits as well as lists of dealers in spray supplies may be secured from the State Plant Board at State College.

BOTHERED WITH ROACHES? FLUOSILICATE 'EM

With the advent of warm weather, many complaints of roaches are being received by State Plant Board Inspector Douglass. The control measures advised for these pests consists of sodium fuloride or sodium fluosilicate dust in cracks, along sinks, and in other places frefuentel by them. The roaches walk through the poisonous pawder and are killed when they clean their feet by drawing them through their mouth.

Splendid results have been secured in all cases where this method has been used for several consecutive nights. Care should be taken that the sodium fluoride does not get into any food, as it is poisonous. More information about the control of cockroaches and other household pests may be secured from the State Plant Board, State College, Miss.

POSTOFFICE SITUATION

The postoffice situation in Grenada has not changed this week. Mr. Ford still has one veteran out of three veterans to choose a post master from: Donald Sharp, first; W. W. Whitaker, ex-first, now second; and Frank York, ex-second, now third. Mr. Ford has a hell of a baby to nurse, everybody believes.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK MEET AT JACKSON

Announcement was made today at the Grenada County Welfare Office by Mrs. T. W. Goodwin, county welfare agent, that several members of the Grenada county organization would attend the Mississippi Conference of Social Work at Jackson, April 17-10.

Mrs. Goodwin, in speaking of the program for the conference stated that exceptionally interesting series of addresses and meeting had been prepared. The Mississippi Conference of Social Work this year will institute the sectional meeting method. Under this plan members of the conference will find it possible to attend a meeting at which will be presented particular subjects in which they are interested.

Featured speakers at the conference will be Miss Jane Hoey, Director of the Bureau of Public Assistance of the Social Security Board, Washington, D. C., and the Hon. Frank Bane, Executive Director of the Council of State Governments, Chicago, Ill. Other speakers will include Mrs. C. C. Clark, of Columbia, Miss., state president of the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers; Miss Kate Bullock, Chief, Division of Child Welfare, State Department of Public Welfare, Columbia, South Carolina; Miss Selene Gifford, Regional Supervisor, W. P. A., Division of Employment, New Orleans; Dr. William Harvey Perkins, Professor of Preventive Medicine, School of Medicine, Tulane University, New Orleans; and others.

Miss Helen Moses, Disaster Representative, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., will speak in the afternoon section meeting Thursday, April 18, on "Our Community Resources—What Are They?—How Can We Make the Most of Them?" At the same meeting which will be held on the roof of the Robert E. Lee Hotel, Miss Kate Fulton, Regional Chief, Community and Family Service, Farm Security Administration, Little Rock, Ark., will also speak.

The conference will open for registration at 10 A. M. Wednesday, April 17th at the Robert E. Lee Hotel.

Mrs. J. A. Helms and son, Charles, of Holly Springs, are guests this week in the home of their sister and aunt, Mrs. F. A. Stacy and Dr. Stacy.

Mrs. J. H. Oliver who has been in Memphis consulting her physician, will return home today in company with her sister, Mrs. A. D. McGaughy. Mrs. Oliver has been in Memphis several days.
